Greater Palm Springs is buzzing as the seasonal lineup of LGBTQ+-friendly events gets underway. The excitement kicks off with The Dinah 2026 (September 30–October 4), celebrating 35 legendary years of music and pool parties for queer women at the Hilton Palm Springs and Hotel Zoso under the new independent ownership of BellaRose Productions. Architectural enthusiasts can dive into Modernism Week – October (October 15–18), featuring drag-hosted highlights like Bella da Ball's Celebrity Homes Tour alongside Modernism Week After Dark nighttime socials. On October 16, The Center's Center Stage Gala takes over the Palm Springs Air Museum with a special performance by Marisa Corvo to fundraise and honor community champions Jeff Weyant and Marty Massiello, followed by the festive Palm Springs Pride Walk on October 17. This walk steps off at 9 am in the Arenas District, offering a powerful, joyful celebration of visibility and pride right in the heart of the city.

The kink and fetish communities will then gather for PS Leather Pride – Valhalla (October 29–November 1), calling all leather vikings and valkyries to celebrate in the "mead hall" with ferocity and abandon. This leads directly into the milestone 40th annual Greater Palm Springs Pride festival (November 6–8) taking over Palm Canyon Drive and the Arenas District under the official theme "Be Included". #I LOVE GAY palm springs

Palm Canyon Drive will offer food, drinks, and shopping alongside a diverse lineup of artists, entertainers, and vendors. The non-stop entertainment spans multiple stages, including the Arenas District Stage, the DJ Stage at Palm Canyon and Amado, and the Pride Community Stage at Tahquitz and Palm Canyon, running from Friday afternoon until the highly anticipated Pride Parade steps off at 10 am on Sunday. In the middle of this festive weekend, participants can kick off their Saturday morning with the Palm Springs Pride 5K Run & Walk on November 7 starting from W. Chino and Belardo Road. The following weekend, enjoy the culinary festivities at The Palm Springs International Food & Wine Festival from November 13–15 in Downtown Park.

Beyond these events, the desert is welcoming a fresh wave of local businesses. Reclaiming Cathedral City's leather-kink heritage in the former space of The Barracks is the highly anticipated Eagle Cathedral City. The venue represents a continuation of the iconic national "Eagle" brand network, offering a safe, kink-positive space that has made extensive upgrades to build a brand-new patio, state-of-the-art lighting, and a top-tier sound system. Downtown Palm Springs also welcomes Luchador Brewing Company, which has opened a new tap room at 250 S. Palm Canyon Drive, offering exceptional beverages with plans to introduce "taqueria street food." It is joined downtown by Breakfast Republic, a San Diego-based brunch favorite taking over the former Impala restaurant space at 333 S. Palm Canyon Drive to serve up classic brunch standards with a creative twist. Organic wellness arrives with Mountain Rose Herbs Mercantile inside the historic mid-mod Oasis Building at 115 S. Palm Canyon Drive, stocking natural spices, wellness products, bath salts, and teas, plus community classes and gatherings. Finally, local coffee giant Koffi expands to its upcoming sixth desert location inside the Gelson's shopping center at Bob Hope and Gerald Ford drives in Rancho Mirage.
